Envoys Have Not Requested Wilson to Name Conditions to Insure Success of Negotiations—Armistice Proposal Forwarded to Carranza.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—It was asserted here today on unquestioned authority that the South American envoys, who are seeking to avert a crisis in Mexico, have appealed to European governments for friendly offices to facilitate mediation between Mexico and the United States.

The appeal, it was stated, did not include a request, as reported from abroad, that the powers use their influence on President Wilson to name conditions which would insure the success of the negotiations.

It also was learned that proposals to General Carranza as head of the Constitutionalists to join the armistice proposed between the United States has been made by the mediation envoys. The proposal was forwarded to General Carranza following his acceptance of the good offices of the mediators as a part of the plan of the envoys to secure general cessation of hostilities in Mexico pending the mediation negotiations.

When the mediation envoys adjourned for luncheon, it was declared they are awaiting word direct from General Carranza as to whether he would agree to an armistice. Some of the representatives of the Constitutionalists here, it was known, did not favor an armistice, but the envoys, as shown in the original note to Carranza offering their good offices are dealing direct with the Constitutional chief and not through representatives here. Should Carranza reject an armistice, the mediation plans probably would be thrown back to the international basis between this government and Huerta, with the international Mexican trouble eliminated.

DENIED IN PARIS

By Associated Press.

Paris, France, April 30.—The Foreign Office is authority for the statement that "none of the three South American representatives engaged in efforts for mediation has made any representations to the French government with the object of influencing President Wilson to name conditions which would render the success of the negotiations possible."

This statement contradicts the report from Berlin yesterday.

Lillian Nordica, who arrived here quite ill nearly a month ago has had a relapse and is sinking. The doctors gave up all hope for her recovery.

She had engaged passage for Genoa where her husband George W. Young of New York had expected to meet her.

WRECK SLIDES INTO THE DEEP

By Associated Press.

Duluth, Minn., April 30.—Though long stretches of the beach were patrolled from daylight today, no new wreckage from the lost steamer Benjamin Noble came ashore, nor were any bodies seen. The lake was placid and a warm sun shone on the snow drifts and small land wreckage left by the great steamer.

Mariners are puzzled by the disappearance of the Noble, but their belief is that she attempted to reach Duluth Harbor, but with the red light on the southern entrance pier out and the fog horn silent, she struck side on against the termination of the sand bar that forms Park Point, upset and slid into deep water.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Complaint made to the French embassy here by the captain of the Holland-American liner Andijk, that the American naval authorities at Vera Cruz had refused him permission to unload his vessel in that port April 21st, was answered by the Navy department today when Secretary Daniels transmitted to the French ambassador a message from Admiral Fletcher, denying that such refusal had been made.

By Associated Press.

New York City, April 30.—Upton Sinclair and the four women who were arrested with him yesterday in front of the Standard Oil Building while they paraded as "mourners", protesting against John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s policy in the Colorado Mine war, were today found guilty of disorderly conduct and each was sentenced to pay a fine of $3.00 with the alternative of three days in jail. Sinclair, Mrs. Donie Lietner and Mrs. Elizabeth Freeman, refused to pay the fine. The others said they would pay.

Brownsville, Texas, April 30.—For the first time during the present revolution Mexican Constitutionalists today were in control of the entire northern frontier of Mexico, divided by the Rio Grande from Texas.

The territory is 300 miles long and includes four strategic garrison towns. The Rebels completed their control of the section this week when Nuevo Laredo and Piedras Negras were occupied without resistance. Previously, Matamoros, opposite Brownsville and Juarez were the important northern points controlled by Carranza.

A WILD REPORT

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—The report from Mexico City that the port of Manzanillo on the Pacific coast had been bombed by an American warship was denied at the White House today.

Investigation disclosed that a conflagration, said to have been of incendiary origin, had occurred there, but American forces had nothing to do with it. The White House communicated with Secretary of the Navy Daniels with relation to the Manzanillo report and also the dispatches that American marines had landed at Salina Cruz.

Admiral Howard, replying to the inquiries from the Navy Department, told of the conflagration and denied that American marines had been landed at Salina Cruz.

Expect to Know Today Whether Any of Entombed Men Are Alive—Fans Used to Dispel Gas—Sorrowing Populace Kept Back by Officers.

By Associated Press.

Eccles, W. Va., April 30.—Fifty or more trained miners under direction of Federal Bureau of Mines, whose chief, J. A. Holmes, is on the ground, today searched for the bodies of 172 miners entombed in Mine No. 5 of the New River Collieries Company last Tuesday. Six bodies were found at the bottom of the shaft. Others located will not be brought out until tonight. Reports from the mine were that many bodies had been found, but so far there was no indication that any of the miners had escaped.

the explosion and its deadly aftermath. Water was found in some crevices, but the engineers hope to have them cleared by evening. It is estimated that two days must elapse before the entire mine is explored and the dead recovered. Dr. Charles P. Neill, former U. S. Commissioner of Labor, but now General Welfare Agent of the Guggenheim interests, arrived today to provide permanent relief to the families of the dead.

After 24 hours exhaustive efforts rescuers reached the bottom of shaft No. 5 of the New River Collieries Company at 8 o'clock today and found six bodies huddled together. All were so badly burned that identification was impossible. More bodies were found a short distance further into the galleries.

The first bodies found were hoisted out and placed in a temporary morgue. It required efforts of deputy sheriffs to keep the crowd from rushing to the tipple. Fans were placed in motion in an effort to clear the mine of gas, so that the rescue work could proceed. It was thought that by this afternoon it would be definitely known whether any miners were still alive. Many believe they are all dead.

Denver, Colo., April 30.—The occupation of Las Animas and Fremont counties by U. S. troops, the continuance of negotiations between militia and strikers at Walsenburg for the surrender of the strikers' arms, the taking of additional testimony at Trinidad at the coroner's in-

Federal soldiers who reached Fremont county yesterday, formally took charge of the district today. The 2nd squadron of the 5th cavalry reached Trinidad in a drenching rain. One of Major Holbrook's first acts was the issuance of a statement urging "all law abiding citizens to carefully read the President's proclamation and comply with its provisions."

ORDER SOON TO BE RESTORED

Fifteen Lives Lost in the Final Engagement Between Strikers and State Soldiers—Miners in Walsenburg District Surrender Arms to Militia—May Be Prosecuted For Killing of Officer.

Denver, Colo., April 30.—Federal cavalry this morning took charge of the situation in the Colorado coal strike field.

At least 15 human lives was the toll in yesterday's fighting between the strikers, mine guards and state militia.

Two battles were waged, one at Forbes, 14 miles north of Trinidad and six miles south of Ludlow, and the other at Walsenburg, where fighting had been in progress for 48 hours at dawn. At Forbes 10 men are known to have been killed. The bodies have been recovered. This is believed to constitute the total death list there.

At Walsenburg three bodies have been recovered and two more are lying on a hillside. Thus far no one has dared to try to recover them. The number of injured at Walsenburg can not be ascertained. At Forbes six wounded men were taken off the field after the battle had subsided.

Aside from the Forbes and Trinidad battles, the most dramatic of the day's events was the inquest begun over the bodies of 25 victims of the Ludlow battle, including 14 children and two women. Dr. Asa Harvey of Aguilar, for the union there, said that after the fire of the tent colony at Ludlow had virtually subsided and while the women and children lay in the safety pits, the militia applied torches to the inflammable canvas.

The battle at Forbes began at an early hour. Four hours later, when the big mine was devastated at a tremendous loss, the strikers, 150 in number, left the hills to the east, west and south and marched back to camp. The defenders numbered only 40 men.

The dead at Forbes are: A. Newland, mine blacksmith; Jack Smith, miner; Ed Kesler, miner; three unidentified strikers; three unidentified Japs and an unidentified negro.

Under a truce agreement which stopped the fighting at Walsenburg, approximately 650 miners surrendered their arms to militia officers appointed by Colonel Verdeckberg. The strikers were not taken into custody, but will be subject to prosecution in the courts for the killing of Major P. P. Lester of the hospital corps.

SINCLAIR PARTY WILL YET MOURN

New York, April 30.—Despite their arrest and subsequent liberation, Upton Sinclair and his friends will continue to carry out their plan to make public mourning for miners of Colorado in front of 26 Broadway, the offices of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The mourners just walked up and down, each with a band of black crepe on the arm. There has been no public demonstration against them.

When arrested, Mr. Sinclair spoke his mind before Lieutenant Hogan at the police station. He denounced his arrest, saying that it was appropriate for the mourners to parade in front of Mr. Rockefeller's office, and that Mr. Rockefeller was responsible for the shooting and burning of women and children.

Among the mourners is Miss Elizabeth Freeman, a suffragist from England. She has a record as a hunger striker.

OLD BRAVE IS SOME TANGOIST

Edmonton, Alta. April 30.—Two hundred braves of the Indian tribe of the Hobbema reservation, 60 miles south of Edmonton, were in attendance when Chief Samson and his headmen conferred the title of chieftain upon Charles L. Gill of Edmonton, for services rendered to the red men.

The feature of the entertainment, which followed the ceremony, was a cycle of 13 tribal dances. One of the participants, Buffalo Chip, 99 years of age, a veteran of the Red rebellion, literally danced a half dozen young men off their feet. The braves were garbed in festal day finery of silks and furs and beadwork. Their faces were painted with yellow and red ochre. Following the usual exchange of presents, the Indians met in council, at which Gill was admitted into the brotherhood.

A permanent record of the ceremony and dances was made by a moving picture camera operator. This will be exhibited for the first time on the reservation about the middle of May.

ASTOR-HUNTINGTON NUPTIALS OCCUR AT HIGH NOON TODAY

By Associated Press.

Staatsburg, N. Y., April 30.—William Vincent Astor, head of the family established in America a century and a quarter ago by John Jacob Astor, the German fur trader, and, perhaps, the wealthiest young man in the world, was quietly married here at noon today to Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington. Since the tragic death of his father, who went down with the Titanic, made him master of the great fortune long associated with the Astor name, Vincent Astor has gained a prominence not altogether due to his wealth. His interest in philanthropy and social betterment has kept his name before the public, and his marriage to a girl whom he has known since childhood gives more than a touch of romance to the union.

Staatsburg is an old Dutch settlement on the east bank of the Hudson about half way between New York and Albany.

The Huntingtons had arranged a more elaborate wedding ceremony at St. Margaret's Episcopal church in the village, but Vincent Astor's sudden illness forced them to abandon their plans. While visiting his fiancée a month ago he developed an abscess on the lungs, and for a time his condition was serious. There was talk of delaying the wedding, but both he and Miss Huntington were opposed to the postponement, and finally it was decided that the ceremony should be performed on the date originally set but the arrangements for a large wedding with a reception and wedding breakfast to follow were given up. The wedding invitations were ready but none was sent out. Only a few near relatives and intimate friends, barely a score, were informally asked to attend, and the scene was shifted from the church to the Huntington residence.

Miss Huntington's attendants were her younger sister, Alice, as maid of honor, and Alice Muriel Astor, sister of the bridegroom and Margaret Dows, daughter of Tracy Dows, a neighbor of the Huntingtons. Miss Astor and Miss Dows are children, about ten years of age. Mr. Astor's best man was Hermann Oelrichs, of New York, a student at the Columbia Law School. There were no ushers.

The bridal gown was white tulle, very simply made, with a train of white satin and wedding lace that was worn by Miss Huntington's grandmother, Mrs. Dinsmore, and by her mother. Miss Astor and Miss Dows wore corn colored chiffon and dotted net, with Nattier blue sashes. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of small flowers arranged in tight concentric circles and wore artificial wreaths of the same flowers on their hats. Mrs. Huntington, the bride's mother, wore blue taffeta and chiffon.

The Episcopal marriage service was read by the Rev. Charles H. Dunean, rector of St. Margaret's church.

After the ceremony a family wedding breakfast was held.

Mr. Astor's gift to his bride is a magnificent pearl necklace which she wore at the ceremony. The citizens of Huntington, Indiana, which was named for one of the bride's ancestors, sent Miss Huntington a great cedar chest.

The bride is the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington and descendant of Samuel Huntington of Norwich, Connecticut, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. In 1800 this branch of the family left New England and settled in Virginia and later moved to Kentucky, whence came Miss Huntington's father to make his home in Rhinebeck. Two of her ancestors on the Huntington side were justices of the United States Supreme Court. Her grandfather on her mother's side was Alvin Adams, founder of the Adams Express Company.

Miss Huntington is fond of outdoor sports and has spent most of her life in the country.

Vincent Astor will be 23 on the fifteenth of next November. As a child he was delicate and the outdoor life prescribed by his physicians became a habit to which he still adheres.

At present he is learning to handle the Astor interests in this country. His fortune has been estimated at between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000.

BAR EVERYTHING EXCEPTING FOOD

Douglas, Ariz., April 30.—Orders received at the local custom house greatly increasing the scope of the embargo on shipment of goods into Mexico have been placed in effect. The new orders, it is said, prevent the exportation into Mexico of practically everything except actual food necessities.

No blasting powder, fuel oil, coal or coke may be shipped through, and it is said the order will prevent plans of mine owners to resume operations in Mexico if there should be no immediate break in the Mexican situation.

It is said here this order will have a serious effect on the Mexican residents of mining camps in Sonora, who have been thrown out of work by the closing of the properties. The food supplies in the camps near the border are said to be extremely limited.

PRESIDENT'S MEXICAN POLICY IS DEFENDED

By Associated Press.

New York, April 29.—William Bayard Hale, President Wilson's unofficial investigator of affairs in Mexico, has contributed to the forthcoming number of The World's Work an article upholding the President's Mexican policy and pointing out an important development in the character of American diplomacy. This, he explains, is an interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine, that establishes the suzerainty of the United States only as an effective source of moral inspiration over the nations of Central America and the West Indies.

"The press and the people of America," he says, "have not yet awakened by the fact that the first year of the Wilson Presidential has given the United States a new character among the Powers of the world. Before Mr. Wilson had been in office a week, he had given the Monroe Doctrine an interpretation the implications of which go far beyond anything voiced by Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Quincy Adams, Polk, Webster, Grant or Olney. Before Mr. Wilson had been in office a year the Powers of other continents had yielded to the principle of our domination in the Western hemisphere. It is not fantastical therefore to speak of our moral Empire in America."

"Our Moral Empire in America" is the title of the article. The magazine editors point out that Dr. Hale desires to make it clear that he writes simply as a private student of affairs. Nevertheless, they assert that no one except the President himself is entitled to speak with greater authority upon the problems of Latin America.

Discussing the possibility of intervention in Mexico (the article was written before the fleet was ordered to Tampico), Dr. Hale says: "An American army would have no physical difficulty in getting back out of Mexico; nobody would use it up before it got away; the difficulty would be that greed and a false sense of national honor would do their utmost to keep us there permanently in occupation."

We do not want Mexico, he declares; especially we do not want her because we do want the good will of the rest of Latin America. "It would be a fool's act indeed to barter the confidence of a hemisphere for all we could gain by annexing Mexico."

Future's Bright Promise

The statistics gathered by the government and made public in the April report of the Department of Agriculture, promise a record-breaking crop of winter wheat.

While some authorities remind those of us who are optimistically inclined, that it is as risky to count bushels before harvest as it is to count chickens before they are hatched, yet we have, in this nation, a great many folks who carry themselves happily along through the present by the promise which they see in the future.

In fact this inclination of the American people to trust the future to take care of those needs of the present which may be postponed, is one of the most powerful causes of our progress.

The United States government encourages rather than discourages this inclination of the business world to depend, in a large measure, on the future.

The government at great expense and with wonderful exactness gathers the detail reports of crop condition, so that people may "figure" on just what is going to be given to us by our good old friend nature.

A tremendous winter wheat crop will go far to make the new tariff schedule popular because it will bring prosperity and many people fail to reason from effect to cause, or if they do are too impatient to treat the cause, preferring rather something which promises immediate relief from the effects.

This year the government estimates the winter wheat crop at six hundred and sixty-two million bushels, nearly one hundred and forty million bushels in excess of the largest crop ever produced in this country. The government reports contain the cheering intelligence that, in addition to favorable condition of the crop at the present time, nowhere are weather conditions noted as unfavorable.

The promise of the future for winter wheat is especially cheering because of the fact that six of the states which are big producers of winter wheat are also big producers of corn and last year suffered a shortage in the corn crop.

This will bring prosperity directly to the sections which suffered disaster last year in crop production and relieve a condition which has been a potent factor in molding dissatisfaction with existing economic legislation.

After all our prosperity, if conditions are allowed to remain normal, depends more on wheat and corn productions than it does on legislation.

While it is possible by the enactment of vicious legislation to bring an era of hard times on the producers notwithstanding favorable crop production, it is impossible, by the enactment of sound legislation to relieve against industrial depression, when the crops fail.

At rock bottom, nature has vastly more to do with the prosperity of the people than Congress, and the reports of a record-breaking wheat crop carry more of real encouragement than the enactment of more laws by Congress.

Undue Pressure Applied In Forcing Mental Development of School Children

By Dr. ARTHUR A. KNOCH of Walnut Hills High School, Cincinnati

FOOTBALL, basketball and long distance races in grammar and high schools are almost criminal. Our public officials ought to know that such strenuous physical exertion exhausts almost all organs and that a DILATED HEART IS THE NATURAL RESULT OF THE UNREASONABLY PROLONGED TENSION INCIDENT TO SUCH GAMES. Our ideal should not culminate in the training of young athletes, but in the education of mentally and physically sound and harmoniously developed men and women, whose gait, posture and bodily movements would arouse the admiration of all.

THE GENERAL OPINION OF PROGRESSIVE PEDAGOGUES AND PHYSICIANS IS RAPIDLY DEVELOPING INTO A CONVICTION THAT UNDOE PRESSURE IS APPLIED, AND APPLIED PREMATURELY, IN FORCING THE MENTAL DEVELOPMENT OF SCHOOL CHILDREN. IT IS CRUEL TO DEMAND THAT CHILDREN FROM SIX TO TEN YEARS SHOULD REMAIN IN A COMPLETELY PASSIVE POSITION FIVE HOURS DAILY IN A MUSTY, GENERALLY OVERHEATED SCHOOLROOM WHEN EVERY FIBER IMPELS THEM TO RUN INTO THE FREE AND BEAUTIFUL OUT OF DOORS.

We overburden our pupils mentally at too early an age, and this is one of the reasons why such lamentable results are obtained during the first four school years.

Poetry For Today

UNCLE SAM TO MRS. MEXICO.
I've the highest regard
For the fence of my yard;
Like a boundary sacred it's been.
In your yard that's beyond
Men of fighting are fond,
But I've never played Mr. Butt-in.
But a boy who can vex
Has thrown rocks by the pecks,
And my windows he's dared to destroy,
And I'll have to climb over your fence,
Mrs. Mex.
And spank that boy!

As a neighbor I've tried
To remain on my side
And not enter those family fights,
Though some men in my house
Have said: "Give 'em the 'raus!"
They're so noisy we're sleepless o' nights!"
But a boy strikes a pose
With his thumb to his nose,
And it's me he desires to annoy.
So I'll have to climb over that fence, I suppose,
And spank that boy!

I have talked to that child
In a manner most mild;
I have said, "You'll oblige if you stop."
For this happy old Yank
Is not eager to spank
Or to act as a species of cop.
But the more that I sat
And said "please" to that brat
All the more he threw bricks in his joy.
And I'll have to climb over the fence that he's at
And spank that boy!

Though a lover of peace,
I've not called for police
To suppress the bad urchins next door,
For I've figured that they
Would keep fighting away
Till but one would be left of the score.
But that boy of no sense
Will not cease his offense,
Though I've warned him he ought to be coy,
So I guess, Mrs. Mex, I'll climb over your fence
And spank that boy!

OHIO SALOONS ARE REDUCED

Columbus, O., April 30.—There are 5,525 saloons in Ohio today, according to figures given out by State Auditor Donahey. During eight years the number has decreased from 13,009. Operation of the Alidin tax and the Rose county option law reduced the number to 6,875 in 1909 and the state liquor license law is responsible for the other reduction. Almost 4,000 of the total number of saloons are in the eight large counties. Cuyahoga has 1,309, Hamilton 963, Franklin 618, Lucas 401, Montgomery 263, Mahoning 218, Summit 213, Stark 204.

ISLAND QUEEN MEETS ACCIDENT

Gallipolis, O., April 30. — Several passengers were seriously hurt by falling smokestacks when the excursion steamer Island Queen, with 1,000 aboard, including 800 epileptic patients from the state hospital, struck a telephone cable that crosses the Ohio river four miles below here. Paul Oliver, 12, of Kanawha, and Harry Blagg of Massillon are fatally injured. Pilot George Balles lost control of the steamer when a gust of wind suddenly changed the boat's course and the accident resulted.

The steamer blew up April 27, 1865, in the Mississippi river, near Memphis, Tenn.

RENTED HEN STRIKES.

Quits Laying, and Owner Has to Sue Neighbor For Rent.

Sunbury, Pa.—When eggs touched 60 cents a dozen recently Phillip Bradford of Sunbury discovered a new form of speculation. It was revealed in Squire Tierney's court when Bradford brought suit against a neighbor to collect rental for a hen.

Bradford has a lot of hens. Instead of collecting his eggs and selling them he rented out the fowls at 2 cents a day, the renter winning if the hens continued to lay properly. One of them was rented to James H. Snyder, but instead of laying she wanted to sit—and sit was all she did. When Bradford attempted to collect his rental Snyder refused to pay.

Squire Tierney gave judgment for 50 cents against Snyder.

Syracuse, N. Y.—President F. M. Parsons of the Village of Weedsport has sounded a clarion call for bachelors to come to his village and marry sixty-five widows who own property there.

HERE IS A REALLY TRULY PRESS AGENT OF A REALLY TRULY QUEEN.

Did you ever hear of a real queen, one of the rulers of a prominent nation, having a press agent?

Well, perhaps not. But now you are going to hear about one. Queen Eleonore of Bulgaria is coming to the United States in May. She has been preceded by a genuine specimen of press agent whose duty it is to see that the queen's name is printed in papers and magazines on every possible occasion. He is an American newspaper writer, William Caspar, and thus far he has achieved quite a success in making the queen of the Bulgars known to the American people.

Queen Eleonore is coming here to study immigration problems and will bring with her several graduate women nurses from the College for Girls at Constantinople.

SNYDER ACCUSED OF MANY ROBBERIES IN THIS COUNTY

Man Arrested in Bloomingburg Monday and Taken to Athens for Trial, Accused by Pals and Authorities Will Investigate—May Be Man Who Has Committed a Number of Robberies in This County Including the Memorable Hold-up at Cisco Last December.

Robert Snyder, or Robert Jones, arrested at Bloomingburg Monday, and escorted to Athens by Sheriff Nelson where the man was turned over to the authorities to face a charge of car-breaking, is now accused of having taken part in several robberies in this county.

As a result of the accusation the charges against the man will undoubtedly be sifted to the bottom by the local authorities. It is said that the man headed a gang of thieves who made their living by stealing.

During the past six months quite a number of robberies have occurred in Fayette county and the guilty parties never apprehended, and it is possible that the man could throw some light on at least a part of the robberies.

In addition to several other robberies, at least two of the three now being held in Athens, are suspected of the memorable Cisco robbery last December, when three men boldly held up and robbed the occupants of the store, the cash drawer of the store, and the postoffice in the store.

One of the fellows admits that himself and companions were "coon hunting" on the night of the robbery, and that they were in the neighborhood of Johnson's Crossing. He further admits that they had in their possession a 44 caliber revolver with cartridge belt—similar to that carried by the leading robber. The men answer to the general description of the two men who entered the store. They deny that they did rob the place, although Jones-Snyder admitted that he formerly resided within half a mile of Cisco.

The above information was given to Sheriff Nelson, who quizzed two of the men about the robbery.

Hunkerford, the first man arrested at Bloomingburg, stated that he and Jones (or Snyder) and Jones' wife robbed Harry Reynolds' house near Bloomingburg while Mr. Reynolds was moving, and that they secured a quantity of fruit, rubber, and other articles.

Hunkerford also admitted burglarizing a store near Chillicothe, supposedly at Vigo, but said they threw most of the stolen goods into the creek when they thought themselves pursued.

Starkey was in this county at the time of the Cisco robbery, and two fellows of questionable character from New York state were staying with them at the time.

Hunkerford is 19 years old; Starkey is 22 and "Jones" 34. Jones has given his name as Robert Snyder, R. P. Anderson, Charles Rhoades, and two or three other names.

Herbert Hunkerford is the man arrested at Bloomingburg, and Starkey in West Virginia.

The Athens Messenger of Wednesday, speaks of the men as follows: "Snyder was taken before Prosecutor Woolley this morning where he was confronted by Herb, Hunkerford and John Starkey, recently arrested for forgery. Snyder is a brother-in-law of Hunkerford who claims that Bob entered several freight cars and stole merchandise. He also claimed that Snyder committed several robberies in Fayette county and in these alleged thefts Starkey agrees with the story told by Hunkerford. Snyder denies the whole affair. It now seems as though about all of the Hunkerford family would be involved and wholesale arrests are expected shortly. The Humane Society has taken up the case of the family and it is likely that those who are not arrested on petty theft charges will be sent to the county infirmary, or to some other institution. The city authorities are determined to clean up the outfit."

WILL PROSECUTE VIOLATORS OF LAW

With more than 150 members of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association scattered throughout all parts of the county, the men who have for years been guilty of seining Fayette county streams and illegally removing large numbers of fish will stand a good chance of exposure this year.

As its name indicates, the association is to protect fish and game from the law violator, and now 150 persons are ready to capture the seiner, where no one in particular kept an eye out for them.

With the protection offered by association, and with the incessant restocking of streams, fishing in all streams is expected to improve rapidly within the next year or two.

CHAUTAUQUA MEETING WILL BE HELD TOMORROW NIGHT

Members of Committee Urged to Attend Meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Tomorrow Night at 7:30 When Organization Will be Perfected—Chautauqua Dates Are July 16 to 22—Program for Season Includes Many Strong Attractions.

Word from the Bureau states that the program will be a strong one and one that will appeal to all tastes in the community, there being different musical attractions each day, besides splendid speakers and entertainers, so that every program is practically a "double-header."

Among the noted speakers who are scheduled to appear may be mentioned Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin; Prof. Henry A. Nicholas, the discoverer of Harold Bell Wright, the noted novelist, and a lecturer of note, and Dr. Lincoln Wirt, famous Arctic explorer.

Another feature is Women's Day, at which time a debate will be given on Woman Suffrage, Mrs. Robert M. LaFollette, wife of the famous Wisconsin Senator, to speak in favor of Woman Suffrage, and Miss Lucy Price, secretary of the Ohio Anti-Suffrage Association, to speak against Woman's Suffrage.

Among the musical attractions may be mentioned Quintano's Royal Italian band, Balmer's famous Kafir Boy Choir, from South Africa; Pilgrim Girls' Orchestra, Chautauqua Festival artists; Stratford Male Quartet and several other musical organizations, one of the most popular of which is the Buelah Buck Quartet Co., which will appear on the opening day.

The dates for the local Chautauqua have been announced for July 16 to 22, seven days of splendid pro-

FARM WAGES OF $3,500,000,000

United States Treasurer Burke Due This Amount Now.

AGREEMENT MADE YEARS AGO

Farmer Promised "Johnny" All the Money That Had His Name on It. Now His Name Appears on All Banknotes—Thousands Printed Each Day at Washington.

New York.—John Burke, United States treasurer, made a bargain nearly fifty years ago by which he was to be paid a bonus on his services for work done at that time, when there seemed little hope of its fulfillment. When Chester Ferry has fulfilled his part of the contract with Mr. Burke he will make the latter easily the richest man in the world, says the Tribune of this city.

Burke hired out when a boy not yet ten years old to husk corn for a neighboring farmer and received for his pay the small sum of 50 cents a day. When the time came for his employer to pay him for his season's work Ferry said:

"Johnny, I want you to know that what I can afford to give you now for your work I regard as insufficient pay. I am sure you will think that you have earned more, for you have been diligent and painstaking and have never complained. So while I can pay you only 50 cents a day for your time I'll agree to hand over to you in the future all the money you can show me with your name on it."

"I accepted his proposition," says

Mr. Burke. "but I gave it little consideration during the intervening years until the beginning of the present administration, when I became treasurer of the United States. Then the episode came to mind, and I have written to Mr. Ferry, reminding him of his obligations."

This is the letter in part: "When we lived neighbors on adjoining farms in German township and I was a little mite of ten you frequently employed me in corn husking and corn planting times and on various other occasions, for which services you paid me 50 cents a day. You will remember, however, that at the time of settlement you assured me that you were not certain that 50 cents was a sufficient remuneration for my services and that in addition to the payment of 50 cents a day you were to turn over to me all the money that you got with my name on it, which agreement was perfectly satisfactory to me and was duly accepted at the time."

Fearing that you may have forgotten this obligation on account of lapse of time, I am calling your attention to it now, for of course I know that all that is necessary for me to do is simply to call your attention to it, that your part of the agreement will be faithfully kept."

The bureau of engraving prints Mr. Burke's name on 1,080,000 notes of the United States currency a day. In addition to this vast daily increasing obligation on the part of the farmer, Mr. Burke has signed his name to a number of $10,000 certificates.

At this rate the bureau of engraving prints currency bearing his name to the amount of $2,876,000 a day, which by the end of his term as treasurer will net him $3,500,000,000 should he be fortunate enough to realize upon his youthful investment.

MASONS HOLD BIG MEETING

Two candidates were initiated in the Master Mason's degree at a notable meeting of Fayette lodge, F. & A. M., 107, of this city, joined by the Bloomingburg lodge of F. & A. M. Wednesday night.

There was a large attendance from the neighboring lodge, which initiated one of the candidates, Dr. H. L. Stitt. An interesting feature of this initiation was that the candidate's father, Mr. J. Y. Stitt, as Worshipful Master, had charge of the finely put on work.

Fayette lodge initiated the other candidate, Dr. Harry Jenkins, the work in charge of Lee Des Martin, acting as worshipful master.

The evening lecture was delivered by the Worshipful Master of Fayette lodge, Ernest Ellis.

Caterer Smith served a substantial banquet after which E. P. Fisher ably filled the role of toastmaster.

Dr. W. D. Hays, of Cincinnati, made an interesting talk along lodge lines and there were other toasts, quite impromptu. A hundred and twenty Masons were in attendance.

Dr. Hays and Mr. R. D. McClure, of Peebles, were guests from a distance.

INSTITUTE OFFICERS HOLD MEETING TODAY

Mr. C. R. Wagner, special representative of the State Department of Agriculture, met a number of officials from the various Farmers' Institutes of the county, Thursday morning, and plans for next winter's institutes were discussed.

The meeting was held in the common pleas court room, and during the meeting it was brought out that so far three institutes have been arranged in this county for next winter, one at Jeffersonville, one at Bloomingburg and the third at Buena Vista.

Upon petition two other institutes will be awarded to Fayette county, and it is understood that a petition for the Good Hope institute is ready for circulation. It is possible that the fifth institute will be held in this city.

Institute speakers and programs were discussed at some length by Mr. Wagner and the institute officials assembled.

During the past ten years 29 institutes have been held in Fayette county, with an average attendance of 388, and a total cost of $1,093.34 to the county and $1,147.03 to the state, a combined cost of $2,240.27 for the 29 institutes.

BABY TALK BREAKS HIS LONG SILENCE

Spo-Pe, Indian of Mystery, Speaks For First Time.

Washington.—Spo-Pe, the Indian man of mystery, an inmate of the criminal division of the Government Hospital For the Insane at Washington, has broken a silence of more than thirty-two years.

Spo-Pe's self imposed disuse of his talking apparatus has continued ever since the first day of his incarceration at Fort Wayne, near Detroit, in 1882. Adjudged of unsound mind at the fort, he was sent to the government hospital in 1882. His silence was accepted by the army medical examiners as a convincing symptom of melancholia. The crime for which the Indian was imprisoned was the murder of a fur trader, an act of reprisal against the white race for the killing of his mother in one of the hostile interchanges between the United States troops and the Blackfoot Indians in 1879.

It remained for Mrs. Malcolm Clark, one of a party of members of the Blackfoot tribe, herself a halfbreed, to reawaken Spo-Pe's slumbering vocal organs.

Times without number during his incarceration efforts have been made to persuade Spo-Pe to talk. Not a syllable, not even a grunt, has the aged warrior volunteered.

But when Mr. and Mrs. Clark, in company with James Perrine and Charles W. Buck, paid a visit to the insane hospital they explained to the superintendent that they had understood there was an Indian among the inmates.

Mrs. Clark had Spo-Pe pointed out to her. With her husband she addressed him in the stilted but eloquent Indian tongue. Spo-Pe gave no indication that he understood. Then Mrs. Clark said to her friends, "Step back, let me whisper to him."

She sat down beside the solemn red man and began a musical form of baby talk, "the language of little people," as the Indians call it. She crooned and crooned to the gray headed man until finally the stolid heart seemed to melt. "What is your name?" she said, still in the infant dialect.

"Spo-Pe," came from the lips of the stoic. And for the first time since he entered the hospital Spo-Pe had broken his silence.

Finding that his tongue would really perform its office, Spo-Pe's first question was:

"Where is Three Bears?"

"Three Bears was a brother of the Indian who died in 1888."

Since the breaking of the thirty-two years' silence Spo-Pe has expressed a willingness to discourse, but as the Blackfoot language is not universally known in the government hospital he finds considerable difficulty in obtaining companionship.

SERVING OTHERS.

It is a beautiful and salutary arrangement, which we seldom reflect on as we should, that as a rule men only can become rich and great by supplying some want of their fellow men, by doing some work for others which others need and are willing to pay for, be that work moral guidance or material provision. We cannot rise to command except by stooping to serve.

A Business Asset. "Now," said the professor, "when you have taken a few lessons in acting I think I can commend you as a highly competent dentist." "Why do I want lessons in acting?" "After you have assured a patient that you are not going to hurt him you must show great skill in displaying grief and surprise when he yells."—New York Globe.

ACTIONS OF VILLA EXCITE SUSPICION

Personal Brigade, Numbering 7,000 Men, Leave Torreon.

TWO MEANINGS TO MOVEMENT

Villa Either Insincere in His Protests of Friendship For United States or He Has Ordered Up His Army to Overawe Carranza and Dominate Rebel Politics—Foreigners' Property To Be Respected.

El Paso, Tex., April 30. — Pancho Villa's personal brigade of troops, numbering about 7,000 men and known as "The Brigade Villa," reached Chihuahua city from Torreon, according to Americans who arrived from that city.

The movement of troops can have but two meanings. Villa either brought up his personal army from the front in order to be strong enough to force his opposition on Carranza in the present controversy with the United States, or Villa is insincere in his protestations of friendship for the United States and is moving his troops toward the border. Villa's American friends are disinclined to believe the latter and are inclined to credit the troop movement to the rebel general's desire to have military forces at Chihuahua sufficient to dominate rebel politics.

What may come in the event of the rebels capturing Tampico is another question. They are saying that they do not care about the United States embargo on war munitions, as they expect to capture Tampico in a few days, when they will be able to get all the arms they want. Should the United States continue the Tampico blockade after it falls into rebel hands, the rebel officials do not hesitate to say that this would be considered a violation of rebel territory.

No property belonging to foreigners in territory held by the Constitutionalists will be confiscated in future, according to a statement issued by the Carranza administration.

VERA CRUZ GIVEN OVER

Navy Relinquishes Control Today With Fine Ceremonies.

Vera Cruz, April 30. — The United States navy will turn Vera Cruz over to the United States army this afternoon. General Fred Funston then becomes commander of the forces ashore, relieving Admiral Fletcher, and Robert J. Kerr of Chicago and Mexico City will become the active head of the municipal government as civil governor.

The ceremonies of transfer will be impressive. It will take place in the presence of paraded battalions of sailors and marines and paraded regiments of infantrymen in the Plaza de la Constitucion. Admiral Fletcher and his staff will confront General Funston and his staff and a salute will be fired as the strictly naval flags give way to the army flags. The soldiers and marines will present arms and the hands will play.

The transfer will take place earlier than was expected, because the soldiers have been able to fill the places of sailors even more rapidly than it was hoped for. The disembarkation went on all morning, and as the soldiers had no guard duty or patrol to perform they were enabled to settle themselves in barracks.

REPORTED SAFE

Lima, O., April 30. — Relatives here were relieved by telegraph from the war department announcing the safe arrival at Vera Cruz of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Spear and Mrs. W. K. Boone of this city. The Spears were at an inland Mexican town, where Mr. Spear has oil interests.

Washington, April 30. — American consul at Tampico has turned over the consulate to the British. The American consul at Pam has quit and started for Galveston.

KERR IS HUERTA SUPPORTER AND AGAINST WILSON

Chicago, Ill., April 30. — Wilson's administration men in Chicago were startled at the receipt of the news of the appointment by Admiral Fletcher and General Funston of Robert J. Kerr, of Chicago, as civil governor of Vera Cruz. They expressed amazement over the selection of Mr. Kerr, who is an attorney for several large Mexican corporations, because of the strong views which the new civil governor has expressed against the Wilson policy in Mexico and in favor of the Huerta regime.

In a series of lectures before Chicago audiences prior to his departure for Mexico April 6, Mr. Kerr scored President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and the administration policy in general. A speech which brought to a climax the resentment of friends of the Wilson policy in Mexico was that delivered by Mr. Kerr, at the City club, March 7.

In the same speech Mr. Kerr condoned the murder of Madero by Huerta and declared that Huerta had succeeded as president in a legal way. Among influential Chicagoans the universal question was "How did Attorney Kerr influence Admiral Fletcher and General Funston to put him in a position where he will have to carry out an administration policy which he does not favor in settling a controversy with an enemy with whom he is in hearty sympathy?"

Following are extracts from the City club speech of Mr. Kerr:

"We find the United States government favoring the government, or the set of individuals, or the political party, or the mob of bandits, pledged if they get into power, to do things which will be favorable to the Standard Oil interests."

"I am not making the charge that President Wilson or any member of his administration is taking any position because of the influence of Standard Oil, but I do say that it is a most remarkable fact that the interests of the Standard Oil and the moral ideas of the Democratic administration happen to coincide."

RULER OF REBELS IN PEACE SCHEME

Carranza Formally Accepts Principles of Mediation.

SO TELEGRAPHS A B C ENVOYS

Scope of Mediation Plans For Settlement of Mexican Crisis Broadened So as to Include All Mexico—United States and General Huerta Asked to Agree to an Armistice — Late Developments.

Washington, April 30. — The scope of mediation plans for the settlement of the Mexican crisis was suddenly broadened so as to include the entire range of Mexican affairs—not alone the critical issue between the United States and the Huerta regime, but also the conflict between elements of northern and southern Mexico which have rent the republic for many months.

This signal enlargement of the mediation program followed the receipt of a formal acceptance by General Carranza, chief of the Constitutionalist forces, of the principle of mediation as proposed by the ambassador from Brazil and the ministers from Argentine and Chile.

Already the United States and General Huerta had formally accepted the good offices of these South American envoys, and now as a further stop General Carranza has been brought into the deliberations so as to draw every element and faction within the range of any settlement which may be attained.

Armistice Suggested.

The mediators made another decisive move in asking the United States and General Huerta to agree to an armistice by which all aggressive military movements would be suspended pending the outcome of the negotiations. The mediators confidently expect both sides to accept the armistice proposal.

A separate proposal for an armistice as between Huerta and Carranza will also be made, and with its acceptance all of the warring elements throughout Mexico, as well as the American forces, would maintain a military status quo.

The American government in its formal reply to the armistice proposal will expressly stipulate that any untoward act toward Americans will be regarded as an infraction of the armistice.

The South American envoys held a prolonged session at the Argentine legation. Up to the time of their adjournment they had progressed steadily on their plans, and foresaw a definite statement within the next few days of their contemplated action.

Word of General Carranza's acceptance of the tender of good offices looking toward mediation came in a telegram directly to the three South American envoys, who informed Secretary Bryan, the announcement being formally made at the state department.

TAMPICO LEFT BY AMERICANS

Washington, April 30. — Reports to the state and navy departments brought further assurances as to the safety of Americans in Mexico. Admiral Badger reported that nearly all of the Americans had been gotten out of the Tampico district and that 109 refugees had reached Vera Cruz from points in the interior, including the 35 who have been held up at Cordova.

Assurances were transmitted to Consul Canada at Vera Cruz, through the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, that the Mexican minister of foreign affairs had ordered the release of prisoners at Cordova and Guanajuato, and had showed willingness to comply with requests with regard to imprisoned Americans wherever they might be located.

Admiral Badger cabled that he had made an expression of gratitude on behalf of the American government to Vice Admiral Craddock for the courtesy of British Commander Twiss in accompanying the Americans from Cordova to Vera Cruz.

CONFESSES TO TWO MURDERS

Cincinnati, O., April 30. — Confessing to two murders and numerous holdups, a man giving his name as Albert Wing of Baltimore surrendered to the local police here and asked that he be sent back to the Frankfort, Ky., penitentiary to complete a life sentence. Wing claimed that he escaped from the Kentucky prison in 1908. He was then serving a life sentence, he said, for the murder of a woman in Louisville. He also claimed to have served time at Jefferson City, Mo., prison for the murder of a man in St. Louis.

TO SETTLE HOME RULE

Conference Between Rival Leaders To Be Resumed.

London, April 30. — A compromise on the question of home rule for Ireland seems nearer than it has ever been before. There exists a strong belief in parliamentary circles that the conferences between the leaders of the two great parties, which have been unsuccessful in reaching any agreement, will shortly be resumed.

The house of commons discussed the Ulster crisis again when it wound up the two days' debate on Austen Chamberlain's motion for a judicial inquiry into the government's plot to crush the Ulster Covenanters. The motion, which was virtually a vote of censure on the cabinet, eventually was rejected by a party vote of 344 to 264.

Sir Edward Carson, whose leadership of the Ulster rebellion makes him the dominating figure on the opposition side of the house, accepted the overtures made by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who had invited Sir Edward Carson to attempt to compromise the home rule question on a federal basis.

MORE WARSHIPS ARE OFF BELFAST

Belfast, Ireland, April 30. — The third battle squadron of the British fleet arrived off Bangor, a seaport on Belfast Lough. A flotilla of 11 destroyers also reached Belfast Lough, which they will undertake to patrol to prevent further gun-running.

MANZANILLO BOMBARDED?

Mexico City, April 30. — The port of Manzanillo, on the Pacific coast, was bombarded by an American warship, according to a telegram received here by the Mexican minister of war, General Blanquet, from John Jose Maria Mier. According to General Mier's message, the warship entered Manzanillo harbor at 4 in the afternoon of April 28. At 4:30 p. m. the telegraphers left their posts, carrying their instruments with them, and at 5 o'clock the bombardment began. The telegram says the wharves and adjoining buildings were destroyed by shell fire. The gunboat Raleigh is said to have been the warship that shelled the town.

JAPS TEMPT THE RUSSIANS

St. Petersburg, April 30.—It has been learned from an exceptionally well informed source that Baron Motono, Japanese Ambassador at Washington, is doing all in his power to induce the Russian government to take the side of Mexico in the present dispute with the United States and to assume an attitude of hostility toward the latter country.

Tempting advantages in the Far East have been proposed to the St. Petersburg cabinet as a bait toward this end, and negotiations have gone so far that it has been represented that if the Russian government would put pressure on Washington such action would not meet with the disapproval of the British government, which, despite its declared friendly relations with the United States would not feel sorry to see the latter country in difficulties.

In connection with this report it is significant to note that General Soukhomlinoff left hurriedly today for Vladivostok under special orders from the Czar. He has ostensibly gone to do some survey work there, but the real reason is stated to be to meet several Japanese statesmen and discuss a basis of defensive alliance against the United States.

HERRICK ENTERS RACE FOR SENATOR

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Friends of Myron T. Herrick, former governor of Ohio, and now ambassador to France, are authority for the statement that the next week petitions will be circulated for the purpose of making him a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Senator Burton.

The definite statement that petitions would be circulated was made by Otto Shimanski, one of Mr. Herrick's boomers, who was in Washington. Mr. Herrick had intended to come to the United States on or about May 1, but he has been detained in Paris by his diplomatic duties.

THEN AND NOW

THEN.
Just one-hundred and twenty-five years ago today was the first presidential inauguration in the United States. The ceremony took place on the balcony of Federal Hall in Wall Street, New York, which city was then the federal capital. Dawn of the inauguration day was greeted with a salvo of artillery and practically all of the 30,000 inhabitants of New York and many visitors from other cities thronged the streets.

The church bells were rung and at noon a troop of horse, two companies of grenadiers and Highlanders in kilts escorted the president-elect in a coach of state to the scene of the ceremonies.

Livingston, chancellor of New York state, administered the oath of office. Washington's fervent response was met with cheers "Long live George Washington, President of the United States," from thousands of throats.

From Federal Hall, Washington went to the neighboring St. Paul's church to attend divine services. Artillery roared and bells rang throughout the afternoon and evening. At dusk bon-fires and fireworks lighted up the streets and gala balls were held, which continued into the following May day.

NOW.

Today on the steps of the United States Sub Treasury building, the exact spot where Washington stood when he took the oath of office, stands his bronze statue, whose legs have been worn shiny by the urchins of Wall street who have tried to climb up to touch the bronze hand of the father of the country.

The point today is called the monetary nerve center of the country. The trees which shaded the narrow thoroughfare in Washington's day have all gone, and all about are buildings whose stony monotony towers several hundred feet above the scene. The land where Washington stood sold at $2.75 a square foot at that time; today it is valued at $600 a square foot, and is one of the most valuable tracts in the world.

The buildings about it are said to represent a real value of $300,000,000 and in their vaults there ordinarily repose about a sixth of all the money in the United States.

A stone's throw away, St. Paul's church stands with its back to Broadway preserved just as it was when Washington knelt there for his first prayers as President of the United States.

"It seems expensive," commented the other.

178 MINERS THOT DEAD

Eccles, W. Va., April 30.—Efforts to penetrate mine No. 5 of the New River Collieries company, wrecked with mine No. 6 by an explosion, are progressing slowly.

The chance of rescuing alive any of the 178 miners entombed in mine No. 5 is slim. On account of the intense heat and gases coming from the mine expert miners have abandoned all hopes. Parties of rescuers continue the work of clearing debris from the ruined shaft and expect soon to know the fate of the men.

The shaft guides of mine No. 5, by which the cage is controlled, have been badly damaged and must be repaired before the cage can be lowered to the bottom of the shaft.

Thousands of persons visited the scene of the disaster. The eight bodies of the men who met death in mine No. 6 were prepared for burial, and one, F. J. Linger, was shipped to Trinidad, Colo., his former home. The 67 men injured in mine No. 6 are all expected to recover.

BIGGEST GORMAND

The champion gormandizer has been found. It is a bird and a little creature weighing less than half a pound, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. The bird is now the subject of experiments being made by A. R. Cahn, assistant in the zoological laboratory of the university of Wisconsin, and is a small marsh fowl measuring about six inches in height, it is called at the university a "Virginia wren," although such a name is strange to the ears of naturalists.

It is, however, a remarkable glutton. Carefully watched, this bit of a creature ate in one day 144 amphipods, 12 grasshoppers, 12 meal worms, three waterbugs, one water scorpion three inches long, two small sunfish 1 1/2 inches long, one stickleback two inches long, one caterpillar and 15 flies. The following day, in addition to more of the same food, the bird ate five hornets, one crowfish two inches long and one grass snake eight inches long. In the two days the bird had eaten more than its own weight and was apparently prepared to keep on eating at the same rate indefinitely.

Akron Stomach Victims Are Restored by Mayr's Remedy

A. M. George Gets Rid of Malady After Several Years of Suffering.

A. M. George, who has offices at 304 Walsh Building, Akron, was for many years a sufferer from stomach ailments. He tried a good many treatments and took many medicines. At last he found Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The relief he sought came swiftly. He wrote: "It is wonderful what results I received. I haven't had a symptom of the old trouble that I suffered for several years. Mr. Felver, my neighbor, who sent for some, claims that he is a different man altogether, and his wife, who has been in poor health for several years, thinks it is doing her good."

CONGRESSMAN URGED INTO SENATORIAL FIGHT

Brooklyn, April 29.—Representative William M. Calder of the Sixth New York congressional district has been endorsed for candidate for the United States senate at the primaries by a number of prominent business and professional men of Brooklyn. The endorsement of the congressman occurred at a meeting held at the Crescent club, Brooklyn.

His friends state that the congressman will run in the senatorial primaries and point to his vote getting ability, citing the fact that he was the only Republican congressman elected in all Greater New York a year and a half ago. He carried his district by over 8,500 majority. Taft losing it by 5,000.

Mr. Calder, who has always been a warm advocate of a larger navy for the United States, is a builder and is president of the Home Trust company of New York city. He has served several terms in congress.

FOUR JAILED FOR CONTEMPT

Wellsburg, W. Va., April 30.—Four of the Colliers miners sentenced by Judge A. G. Dayton at Phillips for contempt of the United States District Court during the strike at the mines of the West Virginia and Pittsburg Coal Company were brought here to jail last night.

One was taken to the new Cumberland jail in the adjoining county of Hancock and the others have commenced to serve their terms of imprisonment in other counties of the state.

Reports from Colliers today were that many of the strikers have left the vicinity, although some of their families remain in the little village.

ALLEN COUNTY TO GET FEDERAL AID

Washington, D. C., April 29.—By order of Secretary of Agriculture Houston all of Allen county, Ohio, except two townships, and parts of adjoining counties today were made a quarantine district for the treatment of hog cholera, and A. P. Sandies, of the Ohio Agricultural board, was designated to take charge of the work.

An effort to stamp out hog cholera in this area will be made, the funds to be provided from the appropriation of $500,000 which Senators Pomerene and Kenyon recently succeeded in obtaining from Congress.

This area was selected because it is stated to be more badly infected with the disease than any other part of the state of Ohio.

Secretary Houston, realizing the demands that would be made upon the department by the various states, had intended to quarantine only one county in Ohio for anticholera work under Federal direction and appropriation, but after he talked with Senator Pomerene, who urged that Ohio was entitled to liberal treatment because he had been especially active in urging the Federal appropriation, Mr. Sandies and Dr. Paul Fisher, State Veterinarian, who also came to Washington, Secretary Houston decided to enlarge the area.

Those in charge of the work there state that they expect to have 99 per cent of the hog cholera cases driven out of Fayette county next year. To compare favorably with this work the government in Allen county must practically exterminate the disease.

The loss from hog cholera in the district outlined by the Department of Agriculture for quarantine was $500,000 last year. In the township of Sugar Creek, in Putnam county, the loss was estimated at $50,000. In Fayette county, where the campaign has resulted practically in the eradication of the disease, the loss two years ago was estimated at $250,000.

Envoys Have Not Requested Wilson to Name Conditions to Insure Success of Negotiations—Armistice Proposal Forwarded to Carranza.

By Associated Press.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—It was asserted here today on unquestioned authority that the South American envoys, who are seeking to avert a crisis in Mexico, have appealed to European governments for friendly offices to facilitate mediation between Mexico and the United States.

The appeal, it was stated, did not include a request, as reported from abroad, that the powers use their influence on President Wilson to name conditions which would insure the success of the negotiations.

It also was learned that proposals to General Carranza as head of the Constitutionalists to join the armistice proposed between the United States and the mediation envoys. The proposal was forwarded to General Carranza following his acceptance of the good offices of the mediators as a part of the plan of the envoys to secure general cessation of hostilities in Mexico pending the mediation negotiations.

When the mediation envoys adjourned for luncheon, it was declared they are awaiting word direct from General Carranza as to whether he would agree to an armistice. Some of the representatives of the Constitutionalists here, it was known, did not favor an armistice, but the envoys, as shown in the original note to Carranza offering their good offices are dealing direct with the Constitutional chief and not through representatives here. Should Carranza reject an armistice, the mediation plans probably would be thrown back to the international basis between this government and Huerta, with the international Mexican trouble eliminated.

Mariners are puzzled by the disappearance of the Noble, but their belief is that she attempted to reach Duluth Harbor, but with the red light on the southern entrance pier out and the fog horn silent, she struck side on against the termination of the sand bar that forms Park Point, upset and slid into deep water.

The White House communicated with Secretary of the Navy Daniels with relation to the Manzanillo report and also the dispatches that American marines had landed at Salina Cruz.

Admiral Howard, replying to the inquiries from the Navy Department, told of the conflagration and denied that American marines had been landed at Salina Cruz.

BURNED BEYOND IDENTIFICATION

Expect to Know Today Whether Any of Entombed Men Are Alive—Fans Used to Dispel Gas—Sorrowing Populace Kept Back by Officers.

By Associated Press.

Eccles, W. Va., April 30.—Fifty or more trained miners under direction of Federal Bureau of Mines, whose chief, J. A. Holmes, is on the ground, today searched for the bodies of 172 miners entombed in Mine No. 5 of the New River Collieries Company last Tuesday. Six bodies were found at the bottom of the shaft. Others located will not be brought out until tonight. Reports from the mine were that many bodies had been found, but so far there was no indication that any of the miners had escaped the explosion and its deadly aftermath. Water was found in some entries, but the engineers hope to have them cleared by evening. It is estimated that two days must elapse before the entire mine is explored and the dead recovered. Dr. Charles P. Neill, former U. S. Commissioner of Labor, but now General Welfare Agent of the Guggenheim interests, arrived today to provide permanent relief to the families of the dead.

After 24 hours exhaustive efforts rescuers reached the bottom of shaft No. 5 of the New River Collieries Company at 8 o'clock today and found six bodies huddled together. All were so badly burned that identification was impossible. More bodies were found a short distance further into the galleries.

The first bodies found were hoisted out and placed in a temporary morgue. It required efforts of deputy sheriffs to keep the crowd from rushing to the tipple. Fans were placed in motion in an effort to clear the mine of gas, so that the rescue work could proceed. It was thought that by this afternoon it would be definitely known whether any miners were still alive. Many believe they are all dead.

ORDER SOON TO BE RESTORED

Fifteen Lives Lost in the Final Engagement Between Strikers and State Soldiers—Miners in Walsenburg District Surrender Arms to Militia—May Be Prosecuted For Killing of Officer.

Denver, Colo., April 30.—Federal cavalry this morning took charge of the situation in the Colorado coal strike field.

At least 15 human lives was the toll in yesterday's fighting between the strikers, mine guards and state militia.

Two battles were waged, one at Forbes, 14 miles north of Trinidad and six miles south of Ludlow, and the other at Walsenburg, where fighting had been in progress for 48 hours at dawn. At Forbes 10 men are known to have been killed. The bodies have been recovered. This is believed to constitute the total death list there.

At Walsenburg three bodies have been recovered and two more are lying on a hillside. Thus far no one has dared to try to recover them. The number of injured at Walsenburg can not be ascertained. At Forbes six wounded men were taken off the field after the battle had subsided.

Aside from the Forbes and Trinidad battles, the most dramatic of the day's events was the inquest begun over the bodies of 25 victims of the Ludlow battle, including 14 children and two women. Dr. Asa Harvey of Aguilar, for the union there, said that after the fire of the tent colony at Ludlow had virtually subsided and while the women and children lay in the safety pits, the militia applied torches to the inflammable canvas.

The battle at Forbes began at an early hour. Four hours later, when the big mine was devastated at a tremendous loss, the strikers, 150 in number, left the hills to the east, west and south and marched back to camp. The defenders numbered only 40 men.

The dead at Forbes are: A. Newland, mine blacksmith; Jack Smith, miner; Ed Kesler, miner; three unidentified strikers; three unidentified Japs and an unidentified negro.

Under a truce agreement which stopped the fighting at Walsenburg, approximately 650 miners surrendered their arms to militia officers appointed by Colonel Verdeckberg. The strikers were not taken into custody, but will be subject to prosecution in the courts for the killing of Major P. P. Lester of the hospital corps.

ASTOR-HUNTINGTON NUPTIALS OCCUR AT HIGH NOON TODAY

By Associated Press.

Staatsburg, N. Y., April 30.—William Vincent Astor, head of the family established in America a century and a quarter ago by John Jacob Astor, the German fur trader, and, perhaps, the wealthiest young man in the world, was quietly married here at noon today to Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington. Since the tragic death of his father, who went down with the Titanic, made him master of the great fortune long associated with the Astor name, Vincent Astor has gained a prominence not altogether due to his wealth. His interest in philanthropy and social betterment has kept his name before the public, and his marriage to a girl whom he has known since childhood gives more than a touch of romance to the union.

Staatsburg is an old Dutch settlement on the east bank of the Hudson about half way between New York and Albany.

The Huntingtons had arranged a more elaborate wedding ceremony at St. Margaret's Episcopal church in the village, but Vincent Astor's sudden illness forced them to abandon their plans. While visiting his fiancée a month ago he developed an abscess on the lungs, and for a time his condition was serious. There was talk of delaying the wedding, but both he and Miss Huntington were opposed to the postponement, and finally it was decided that the ceremony should be performed on the date originally set but the arrangements for a large wedding with a reception and wedding breakfast to follow were given up. The wedding invitations were ready but none was sent out. Only a few near relatives and intimate friends, barely a score, were informally asked to attend, and the scene was shifted from the church to the Huntington residence.

Miss Huntington's attendants were her younger sister, Alice, as maid of honor, and Alice Muriel Astor, sister of the bridegroom and Margaret Dows, daughter of Tracy Dows, a neighbor of the Huntingtons. Miss Astor and Miss Dows are children, about ten years of age. Mr. Astor's best man was Hermann Oelrichs, of New York, a student at the Columbia Law School. There were no ushers.

The bridal gown was white tulle, very simply made, with a train of white satin and wedding lace that was worn by Miss Huntington's grandmother, Mrs. Dinsmore, and by her mother. Miss Astor and Miss Dows wore corn colored chiffon and dotted net, with Nattier blue sashes. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of small flowers arranged in tight concentric circles and wore artificial wreaths of the same flowers on their hats. Mrs. Huntington, the bride's mother, wore blue taffeta and chiffon.

The Episcopal marriage service was read by the Rev. Charles H. Duncanson, rector of St. Margaret's church.

After the ceremony a family wedding breakfast was held.

Mr. Astor's gift to his bride is a magnificent pearl necklace which she wore at the ceremony. The citizens of Huntington, Indiana, which was named for one of the bride's ancestors, sent Miss Huntington a great cedar chest.

The bride is the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington and descendant of Samuel Huntington of Norwich, Connecticut, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. In 1800 this branch of the family left New England and settled in Virginia and later moved to Kentucky, whence came Miss Huntington's father to make his home in Rhinebeck. Two of her ancestors on the Huntington side were justices of the United States Supreme Court. Her grandfather on her mother's side was Alvin Adams, founder of the Adams Express Company.

Miss Huntington is fond of outdoor sports and has spent most of her life in the country.

Vincent Astor will be 23 on the fifteenth of next November. As a child he was delicate and the outdoor life prescribed by his physicians became a habit to which he still adheres.

At present he is learning to handle the Astor interests in this country. His fortune has been estimated at between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000.

BAR EVERYTHING EXCEPTING FOOD

Douglas, Ariz., April 30.—Orders received at the local custom house greatly increasing the scope of the embargo on shipment of goods into Mexico have been placed in effect. The new orders, it is said, prevent the exportation into Mexico of practically everything except actual food necessities.

No blasting powder, fuel oil, coal or coke may be shipped through, and it is said the order will prevent plans of mine owners to resume operations in Mexico if there should be no immediate break in the Mexican situation.

It is said here this order will have a serious effect on the Mexican residents of mining camps in Sonora, who have been thrown out of work by the closing of the properties. The food supplies in the camps near the border are said to be extremely limited.

PRESIDENT'S MEXICAN POLICY IS DEFENDED

By Associated Press.

New York, April 29.—William Bayard Hale, President Wilson's unofficial investigator of affairs in Mexico, has contributed to the forthcoming number of The World's Work an article upholding the President's Mexican policy and pointing out an important development in the character of American diplomacy. This, he explains, is an interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine, that establishes the suzerainty of the United States only as an effective source of moral inspiration over the nations of Central America and the West Indies.

"The press and the people of America," he says, "have not yet awakened by the fact that the first year of the Wilson Presidential has given the United States a new character among the Powers of the world. Before Mr. Wilson had been in office a week, he had given the Monroe Doctrine an interpretation the implications of which go far beyond anything voiced by Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, Quincy Adams, Polk, Webster, Grant or Olney. Before Mr. Wilson had been in office a year the Powers of other continents had yielded to the principle of our domination in the Western hemisphere. It is not fantastical therefore to speak of our moral Empire in America."

"Our Moral Empire in America" is the title of the article. The magazine editors point out that Dr. Hale desires to make it clear that he writes simply as a private student of affairs. Nevertheless, they assert that no one except the President himself is entitled to speak with greater authority upon the problems of Latin America.

Discussing the possibility of intervention in Mexico (the article was written before the fleet was ordered to Tampico), Dr. Hale says: "An American army would have no physical difficulty in getting back out of Mexico; nobody would use it up before it got away; the difficulty would be that greed and a false sense of national honor would do their utmost to keep us there permanently in occupation."

We do not want Mexico, he declares; especially we do not want her because we do want the good will of the rest of Latin America. "It would be a fool's act indeed to barter the confidence of a hemisphere for all we could gain by annexing Mexico."

SINCLAIR PARTY WILL YET MOURN

New York, April 30.—Despite their arrest and subsequent liberation, Upton Sinclair and his friends will continue to carry out their plan to make public mourning for miners of Colorado in front of 26 Broadway, the offices of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The mourners just walked up and down, each with a band of black crepe on the arm. There has been no public demonstration against them.

When arrested, Mr. Sinclair spoke his mind before Lieutenant Hogan at the police station. He denounced his arrest, saying that it was appropriate for the mourners to parade in front of Mr. Rockefeller's office, and that Mr. Rockefeller was responsible for the shooting and burning of women and children.

Among the mourners is Miss Elizabeth Freeman, a suffragist from England. She has a record as a hunger striker.

OLD BRAVE IS SOME TANGOIST

Edmonton, Alta., April 30.—Two hundred braves of the Indian tribe of the Hobbema reservation, 60 miles south of Edmonton, were in attendance when Chief Samson and his headmen conferred the title of chieftain upon Charles L. Gill of Edmonton, for services rendered to the red men.

The feature of the entertainment, which followed the ceremony, was a cycle of 13 tribal dances. One of the participants, Buffalo Chip, 90 years of age, a veteran of the Rell rebellion, literally danced a half dozen young men off their feet. The braves were garbed in festal day finery of silks and furs and beadwork. Their faces were painted with yellow and red ochre. Following the usual exchange of presents, the Indians met in council, at which Gill was admitted into the brotherhood.

A permanent record of the ceremony and dances was made by a moving picture camera operator. This will be exhibited for the first time on the reservation about the middle of May.

Future's Bright Promise

The statistics gathered by the government and made public in the April report of the Department of Agriculture, promise a record-breaking crop of winter wheat.

While some authorities remind those of us who are optimistically inclined, that it is as risky to count bushels before harvest as it is to count chickens before they are hatched, yet we have, in this nation, a great many folks who carry themselves happily along through the present by the promise which they see in the future.

In fact this inclination of the American people to trust the future to take care of those needs of the present which may be postponed, is one of the most powerful causes of our progress.

The United States government encourages rather than discourages this inclination of the business world to depend, in a large measure, on the future.

The government at great expense and with wonderful exactness gathers the detail reports of crop condition, so that people may "figure" on just what is going to be given to us by our good old friend nature.

A tremendous winter wheat crop will go far to make the new tariff schedule popular because it will bring prosperity and many people fail to reason from effect to cause, or if they do are too impatient to treat the cause, preferring rather something which promises immediate relief from the effects.

This year the government estimates the winter wheat crop at six hundred and sixty-two million bushels, nearly one hundred and forty million bushels in excess of the largest crop ever produced in this country. The government reports contain the cheering intelligence that, in addition to favorable conditions noted as unfavorable.

The promise of the future for winter wheat is especially cheering because of the fact that six of the states which are big producers of winter wheat are also big producers of corn and last year suffered a shortage in the corn crop.

This will bring prosperity directly to the sections which suffered disaster last year in crop production and relieve a condition which has been a potent factor in molding dissatisfaction with existing economic legislation.

After all our prosperity, if conditions are allowed to remain normal, depends more on wheat and corn productions than it does on legislation.

While it is possible by the enactment of vicious legislation to bring an era of hard times on the producers notwithstanding favorable crop production, it is impossible, by the enactment of sound legislation to relieve against industrial depression, when the crops fail.

At rock bottom, nature has vastly more to do with the prosperity of the people than Congress, and the reports of a record-breaking wheat crop carry more of real encouragement than the enactment of more laws by Congress.

Poetry For Today

UNCLE SAM TO MRS. MEXICO.
I've the highest regard
For the fence of my yard,
Like a boundary sacred it's been.
In your yard that's beyond
Men of fighting are fond.
But I've never played Mr. Butt-in.
But a boy who can vex
Has thrown rocks by the pecks,
And my windows he's dared to destroy,
And I'll have to climb over your fence,
Mrs. Mex.
And spank that boy!

As a neighbor I've tried
To remain on my side
And not enter those family fights,
Though some men in my house
Have said: "Give 'em the 'raus!"
They're so noisy we're sleepless o' nights!
But a boy strikes a pose
With his thumb to his nose,
And it's me he desires to annoy.
So I'll have to climb over that fence, I suppose,
And spank that boy!

I have talked to that child
In a manner most mild;
I have said, "You'll oblige if you stop."

For this happy old Yank
Is not eager to spank
Or to act as a species of cop.
But the more that I sat
And said "please" to that brat
All the more he threw bricks in his joy.
And I'll have to climb over the fence that he's at
And spank that boy!

Though a lover of peace,
I've not called for police
To suppress the bad urchins next door,
For I've figured that they
Would keep fighting away
Till but one would be left of the score.

But that boy of no sense
Will not cease his offense,
Though I've warned him he ought To be coy,
So I guess, Mrs. Mex, I'll climb over your fence
And spank that boy!

OHIO SALOONS ARE REDUCED

Columbus, O., April 30.—There are 5,525 saloons in Ohio today, according to figures given out by State Auditor Donahey. During eight years the number has decreased from 13,009. Operation of the Alkin tax and the Rose county option law reduced the number to 6,875 in 1909 and the state liquor license law is responsible for the other reduction. Almost 4,000 of the total number of saloons are in the eight large counties. Cuyahoga has 1,309, Hamilton 963, Franklin 618, Lucas 401, Montgomery 263, Mahoning 218, Summit 213, Stark 204.

Gallipolis, O., April 30.—Several passengers were seriously hurt by falling smokestacks when the excursion steamer Island Queen, with 1,000 aboard, including 800 epileptic patients from the state hospital, struck a telephone cable that crosses the Ohio river four miles below here. Paul Oliver, 12, of Kanawha, and Harry Blagg of Massillon are fatally injured. Pilot George Bailes lost control of the steamer when a gust of wind suddenly changed the boat's course and the accident resulted.

Toledo, O., April 30.—Only 10 survivors of the steamer Sultana explosion were able to attend the annual survivors' reunion here. They received a communication from Congressman Frank B. The steamer blew up April 27, 1865, in the Mississippi river, near Memphis, Tenn.

RENTED HEN STRIKES.

Quits Laying, and Owner Has to Sue Neighbor For Rent.

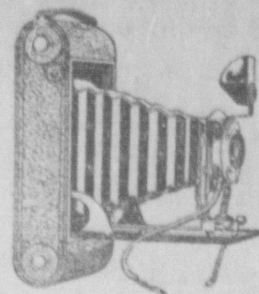

Sunbury, Pa.—When eggs touched 60 cents a dozen recently Phillip Bradford of Sunbury discovered a new form of speculation. It was revealed in Squire Tierney's court when Bradford brought suit against a neighbor to collect rental for a hen.

Bradford has a lot of hens. Instead of collecting his eggs and selling them he rented out the fowls at 2 cents a day, the renter winning if the hens continued to lay properly. One of them was rented to James H. Snyder, but instead of laying she wanted to sit—and sit was all she did. When Bradford attempted to collect his rental Snyder refused to pay.

Squire Tierney gave judgment for 50 cents against Snyder.

Undue Pressure Applied In Forcing Mental Development of School Children

By Dr. ARTHUR A. KNOCH of Walnut Hills High School, Cincinnati

FOOTBALL, basketball and long distance races in grammar and high schools are almost criminal. Our public officials ought to know that such strenuous physical exertion exhausts almost all organs and that a DILATED HEART IS THE NATURAL RESULT OF THE UNREASONABLY PROLONGED TENSION INCIDENT TO SUCH GAMES. Our ideal should not culminate in the training of young athletes, but in the education of mentally and physically sound and harmoniously developed men and women, whose gait, posture and bodily movements would arouse the admiration of all.

THE GENERAL OPINION OF PROGRESSIVE PEDAGOGUES AND PHYSICIANS IS RAPIDLY DEVELOPING INTO A CONVICTION THAT UNDUE PRESSURE IS APPLIED, AND APPLIED PREMATURELY, IN FORCING THE MENTAL DEVELOPMENT OF SCHOOL CHILDREN. IT IS CRUEL TO DEMAND THAT CHILDREN FROM SIX TO TEN YEARS SHOULD REMAIN IN A COMPLETELY PASSIVE POSITION FIVE HOURS DAILY IN A MUSTY, GENERALLY OVERHEATED SCHOOLROOM WHEN EVERY FIBER IMPELS THEM TO RUN INTO THE FREE AND BEAUTIFUL OUT OF DOORS.

We overburden our pupils mentally at too early an age, and this is one of the reasons why such lamentable results are obtained during the first four school years.

SNYDER ACCUSED OF MANY ROBBERIES IN THIS COUNTY

Man Arrested in Bloomingburg Monday and Taken to Athens for Trial, Accused by Pals and Authorities Will Investigate—May Be Man Who Has Committed a Number of Robberies in This County Including the Memorable Hold-up at Cisco Last December.

Robert Snyder, or Robert Jones, arrested at Bloomingburg Monday, and escorted to Athens by Sheriff Nelson where the man was turned over to the authorities to face a charge of car-breaking, is now accused of having taken part in several robberies in this county.

As a result of the accusation the charges against the man will undoubtedly be sifted to the bottom by the local authorities. It is said that the man headed a gang of thieves who made their living by stealing.

During the past six months quite a number of robberies have occurred in Fayette county and the guilty parties never apprehended, and it is possible that the man could throw some light on at least a part of the robberies.

In addition to several other robberies, at least two of the three now being held in Athens, are suspected of the memorable Cisco robbery last December, when three men boldly held up and robbed the occupants of the store, the cash drawer of the store, and the postoffice in the store.

One of the fellows admits that himself and companions were "coon hunting" on the night of the robbery, and that they were in the neighborhood of Johnson's Crossing. He further admits that they had in their possession a 44 caliber revolver with cartridge belt—similar to that carried by the leading robber. The men answer to the general description of the two men who entered the store. They deny that they did rob the place, although Jones-Snyder admitted that he formerly resided within half a mile of Cisco.

The above information was given to Sheriff Nelson, who quizzed two of the men about the robbery.

Hunkerford, the first man arrested at Bloomingburg, stated that he and Jones (or Snyder) and Jones' wife robbed Harry Reynolds' house near Bloomingburg while Mr. Reynolds was moving, and that they secured a quantity of fruit, rubber, and other articles.

Hunkerford also admitted burglarizing a store near Chillicothe, supposedly at Vigo, but said they threw most of the stolen goods into the creek when they thought themselves pursued.

Starkey was in this county at the time of the Cisco robbery, and two fellows of questionable character from New York state were staying with them at the time.

Hunkerford is 19 years old; Starkey is 22 and "Jones" 34. Jones has given his name as Robert Snyder, R. P. Anderson, Charles Rhoades, and two or three other names.

Herbert Hunkerford is the man arrested at Bloomingburg, and Starkey in West Virginia.

The Athens Messenger of Wednesday, speaks of the men as follows:

"Snyder was taken before Prosecutor Woolley this morning where he was confronted by Herb, Hunkerford and John Starkey, recently arrested for forgery. Snyder is a brother-in-law of Hunkerford who claims that Bob entered several freight cars and stole merchandise. He also claimed that Snyder committed several robberies in Fayette county and in these alleged thefts Starkey agrees with the story told by Hunkerford. Snyder denies the whole affair. It now seems as though about all of the Hunkerford family would be involved and wholesale arrests are expected shortly. The Humane Society has taken up the case of the family and it is likely that those who are not arrested on petty theft charges will be sent to the county infirmary, or to some other institution. The city authorities are determined to clean up the outfit."

WILL PROSECUTE VIOLATORS OF LAW

With more than 150 members of the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association scattered throughout all parts of the county, the men who have for years been guilty of seining Fayette county streams and illegally removing large numbers of fish will stand a good chance of exposure this year.

As its name indicates, the association is to protect fish and game from the law violator, and now 150 persons are ready to capture the seiner, where no one in particular kept an eye out for them.

With the protection offered by association, and with the incessant restocking of streams, fishing in all streams is expected to improve rapidly within the next year or two.

FARM WAGES OF $3,500,000,000

United States Treasurer Burke Due This Amount Now.

AGREEMENT MADE YEARS AGO

Farmer Promised "Johnny" All the Money That Had His Name on It. Now His Name Appears on All Banknotes—Thousands Printed Each Day at Washington.

New York.—John Burke, United States treasurer, made a bargain nearly fifty years ago by which he was to be paid a bonus on his services for work done at that time, when there seemed little hope of its fulfillment. When Chester Ferry has fulfilled his part of the contract with Mr. Burke he will make the latter easily the richest man in the world, says the Tribune of this city.

Burke hired out when a boy not yet ten years old to husk corn for a neighboring farmer and received for his pay the small sum of 50 cents a day. When the time came for his employer to pay him for his season's work Ferry said:

"Johnny, I want you to know that what I can afford to give you now for your work I regard as insufficient pay. I am sure you will think that you have earned more, for you have been diligent and painstaking and have never complained. So while I can pay you only 50 cents a day for your time I'll agree to hand over to you in the future all the money you can show me with your name on it."

"I accepted his proposition," says

Mr. Burke, "but I gave it little consideration during the intervening years until the beginning of the present administration, when I became treasurer of the United States. Then the episode came to mind, and I have written to Mr. Ferry, reminding him of his obligations."

This is the letter in part:

"When we lived neighbors on adjoining farms in German township and I was a little mite of ten you frequently employed me in corn husking and corn planting times and on various other occasions, for which services you paid me 50 cents a day. You will remember, however, that at the time of settlement you assured me that you were not certain that 50 cents was a sufficient remuneration for my services and that in addition to the payment of 50 cents a day you were to turn over to me all the money that you got with my name on it, which agreement was perfectly satisfactory to me and was duly accepted at the time."

Fearing that you may have forgotten this obligation on account of lapse of time, I am calling your attention to it now, for of course I know that all that is necessary for me to do is simply to call your attention to it, that your part of the agreement will be faithfully kept."

The bureau of engraving prints Mr. Burke's name on 1,080,000 notes of the United States currency a day. In addition to this vast daily increasing obligation on the part of the farmer, Mr. Burke has signed his name to a number of $10,000 certificates.

At this rate the bureau of engraving prints currency bearing his name to the amount of $2,876,000 a day, which by the end of his term as treasurer will net him $3,500,000,000 should he be fortunate enough to realize upon his youthful investment.

The annual commencement of the Washington C. H. High school will be held Thursday night, the fourth of June.

President H. E. Welch, of Ohio Wesleyan university, delivers the class address.

The present purpose now is to do away with class representation, as it tends to make too long a program.

The class officers will appear in the class-day exercises, which will be held the latter part of May. The class-day program will include novel and attractive features, and, as also on commencement night, the popular High School Glee clubs will furnish the music.

The class of 1914 includes:

MASONS HOLD BIG MEETING

Two candidates were initiated in the Master Mason's degree at a notable meeting of Fayette lodge, F. & A. M., 107, of this city, joined by the Bloomingburg lodge of F. & A. M. Wednesday night.

There was a large attendance from the neighboring lodge, which initiated one of the candidates, Dr. H. L. Stitt. An interesting feature of this initiation was that the candidate's father, Mr. J. Y. Stitt, as Worshipful Master, had charge of the finely put on work.

Fayette lodge initiated the other candidate, Dr. Harry Jenkins, the work in charge of Lee Des Martin, acting as worshipful master.

The evening lecture was delivered by the Worshipful Master of Fayette lodge, Ernest Ellis.

Caterer Smith served a substantial banquet after which E. P. Fisher ably filled the role of toastmaster.

Dr. W. D. Hays, of Cincinnati, made an interesting talk along lodge lines and there were other toasts, quite impromptu. A hundred and twenty Masons were in attendance.

Dr. Hays and Mr. R. D. McClure, of Peebles, were guests from a distance.

INSTITUTE OFFICERS HOLD MEETING TODAY

Mr. C. R. Wagner, special representative of the State Department of Agriculture, met a number of officials from the various Farmers' Institutes of the county, Thursday morning, and plans for next winter's institutes were discussed.

The meeting was held in the common pleas court room, and during the meeting it was brought out that so far three institutes have been arranged in this county for next winter, one at Jeffersonville, one at Bloomingburg and the third at Buena Vista.

Upon petition two other institutes will be awarded to Fayette county, and it is understood that a petition for the Good Hope institute is ready for circulation. It is possible that the fifth institute will be held in this city.

Institute speakers and programs were discussed at some length by Mr. Wagner and the institute officials assembled.

During the past ten years 29 institutes have been held in Fayette county, with an average attendance of 388, and a total cost of $1,093.34 to the county and $1,147.03 to the state, a combined cost of $2,240.27 for the 29 institutes.

BABY TALK BREAKS HIS LONG SILENCE

Spo-Pe, Indian of Mystery,
Speaks For First Time.

Washington.—Spo-Pe, the Indian man of mystery, an inmate of the criminal division of the Government Hospital For the Insane at Washington, has broken a silence of more than thirty-two years.

Spo-Pe's self imposed disuse of his talking apparatus has continued ever since the first day of his incarceration at Fort Wayne, near Detroit, in 1882. Adjudged of unsound mind at the fort, he was sent to the government hospital in 1882. His silence was accepted by the army medical examiners as a convincing symptom of melancholia.

The crime for which the Indian was imprisoned was the murder of a fur trader, an act of reprisal against the white race for the killing of his mother in one of the hostile interchanges between the United States troops and the Blackfoot Indians in 1879.

It remained for Mrs. Malcolm Clark, one of a party of members of the Blackfoot tribe, herself a halfbreed, to reawaken Spo-Pe's slumbering vocal organs.

Times without number during his incarceration efforts have been made to persuade Spo-Pe to talk. Not a syllable, not even a grunt, has the aged warrior volunteered.

But when Mr. and Mrs. Clark, in company with James Perrine and Charles W. Buck, paid a visit to the insane hospital they explained to the superintendent that they had understood there was an Indian among the inmates.

Mrs. Clark had Spo-Pe pointed out to her. With her husband she addressed him in the stilted but eloquent Indian tongue. Spo-Pe gave no indication that he understood. Then Mrs. Clark said to her friends, "Step back, let me whisper to him."

man and began a musical form of baby talk, "the language of little people," as the Indians call it. She crooned and crooned to the gray headed man until finally the stolid heart seemed to melt. "What is your name?" she said, still in the infant dialect.

"Spo-Pe," came from the lips of the stoic. And for the first time since he entered the hospital Spo-Pe had broken his silence.

Finding that his tongue would really perform its office, Spo-Pe's first question was:

"Where is Three Bears?"

Three Bears was a brother of the Indian who died in 1888.

Since the breaking of the thirty-two years' silence Spo-Pe has expressed a willingness to discourse, but as the Blackfoot language is not universally known in the government hospital he finds considerable difficulty in obtaining companionship.

SERVING OTHERS.

It is a beautiful and salutary arrangement, which we seldom reflect on as we should, that as a rule men only can become rich and great by supplying some want of their fellow men, by doing some work for others which others need and are willing to pay for, be that work moral guidance or material provision. We cannot rise to command except by stooping to serve.

A Business Asset.

ACTIONS OF VILLA EXCITE SUSPICION

Personal Brigade, Numbering
7,000 Men, Leave Torreon.

TWO MEANINGS TO MOVEMENT

Villa Either Insincere In His Protests of Friendship For United States or He Has Ordered Up His Army to Overawe Carranza and Dominate Rebel Politics—Foreigners' Property To Be Respected.

El Paso, Tex., April 30. — Pancho Villa's personal brigade of troops, numbering about 7,000 men and known as "The Brigade Villa," reached Chihuahua city from Torreon, according to Americans who arrived from that city.

The movement of troops can have but two meanings. Villa either brought up his personal army from the front in order to be strong enough to force his opposition on Carranza in the present controversy with the United States, or Villa is insincere in his protestations of friendship for the United States and is moving his troops toward the border. Villa's American friends are disinclined to believe the latter and are inclined to credit the troop movement to the rebel general's desire to have military forces at Chihuahua sufficient to dominate rebel politics.

What may come in the event of the rebels capturing Tampico is another question. They are saying that they do not care about the United States embargo on war munitions, as they expect to capture Tampico in a few days, when they will be able to get all the arms they want. Should the United States continue the Tampico blockade after it falls into rebel hands, the rebel officials do not hesitate to say that this would be considered a violation of rebel territory.

No property belonging to foreigners in territory held by the Constitutionalists will be confiscated in future, according to a statement issued by the Carranza administration.

VERA CRUZ GIVEN OVER

Navy Relinquishes Control Today
With Fine Ceremonies.

Vera Cruz, April 30. — The United States navy will turn Vera Cruz over to the United States army this afternoon. General Fred Funston then becomes commander of the forces ashore, relieving Admiral Fletcher, and Robert J. Kerr of Chicago and Mexico City will become the active head of the municipal government as civil governor.

The ceremonies of transfer will be impressive. It will take place in the presence of paraded battalions of sailors and marines and paraded regiments of infantrymen in the Plaza de la Constitution. Admiral Fletcher and his staff will confront General Funston and his staff and a salute will be fired as the strictly naval flags give way to the army flags. The soldiers and marines will present arms and the bands will play.

The transfer will take place earlier than was expected, because the soldiers have been able to fill the places of sailors even more rapidly than it was hoped for. The disembarkation went on all morning, and as the soldiers had no guard duty or patrol to perform they were enabled to settle themselves in barracks.

REPORTED SAFE

Lima, O., April 30.—Relatives here were relieved by telegraph from the war department announcing the safe arrival at Vera Cruz of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Spear and Mrs. W. K. Boone of this city. The Spears were at an inland Mexican town, where Mr. Spear has oil interests.

CONSULS QUIT AND HIT TRAIL

Washington, April 30.—American consul at Tampico has turned over the consulate to the British. The American consul at Pam has quit and started for Galveston.

KERR IS HUERTA SUPPORTER AND AGAINST WILSON

Chicago, Ill., April 30.—Wilson's administration men in Chicago were startled at the receipt of the news of the appointment by Admiral Fletcher and General Funston of Robert J. Kerr, of Chicago, as civil governor of Vera Cruz. They expressed amazement over the selection of Mr. Kerr, who is an attorney for several large Mexican corporations, because of the strong views which the new civil governor has expressed against the Wilson policy in Mexico and in favor of the Huerta regime.

In a series of lectures before Chicago audiences prior to his departure for Mexico April 6, Mr. Kerr scored President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and the administration policy in general. A speech which brought to a climax the resentment of friends of the Wilson policy in Mexico was that delivered by Mr. Kerr, at the City club, March 7.

In the same speech Mr. Kerr condoned the murder of Madero by Huerta and declared that Huerta had succeeded as president in a legal way. Among influential Chicagoans the universal question was "How did Attorney Kerr influence Admiral Fletcher and General Funston to put him in a position where he will have to carry out an administration policy which he does not favor in settling a controversy with an enemy with whom he is in hearty sympathy?"

Following are extracts from the City club speech of Mr. Kerr:

"We find the United States government favoring the government, or the set of individuals, or the political party, or the mob of bandits, pledged if they get into power, to do things which will be favorable to the Standard Oil interests.

"I am not making the charge that President Wilson or any member of his administration is taking any position because of the influence of Standard Oil, but I do say that it is a most remarkable fact that the interests of the Standard Oil and the moral ideas of the Democratic administration happen to coincide."

RULER OF REBELS IN PEACE SCHEME

Carranza Formally Accepts
Principles of Mediation.

SO TELEGRAPHS A B C ENVOYS

Scope of Mediation Plans For Settlement of Mexican Crisis Broadened So as to Include All Mexico—United States and General Huerta Asked to Agree to an Armistice — Late Developments.

Washington, April 30.—The scope of mediation plans for the settlement of the Mexican crisis was suddenly broadened so as to include the entire range of Mexican affairs—not alone the critical issue between the United States and the Huerta regime, but also the conflict between elements of northern and southern Mexico which have rent the republic for many months.

This signal enlargement of the mediation program followed the receipt of a formal acceptance by General Carranza, chief of the Constitutionalist forces, of the principle of mediation as proposed by the ambassador from Brazil and the ministers from Argentina and Chile.

Already the United States and General Huerta had formally accepted the good offices of these South American envoys, and now as a further stop General Carranza has been brought into the deliberations so as to draw every element and faction within the range of any settlement which may be attained.

Armistice Suggested.

The mediators made another decisive move in asking the United States and General Huerta to agree to an armistice by which all aggressive military movements would be suspended pending the outcome of the negotiations. The mediators confidently expect both sides to accept the armistice proposal.

A separate proposal for an armistice as between Huerta and Carranza will also be made, and with its acceptance all of the warring elements throughout Mexico, as well as the American forces, would maintain a military status quo.

The American government in its formal reply to the armistice proposal will expressly stipulate that any untoward act toward Americans will be regarded as an infraction of the armistice.

The South American envoys held a prolonged session at the Argentina legation. Up to the time of their adjournment they had progressed steadily on their plans, and foresaw a definite statement within the next few days of their contemplated action.

Word of General Carranza's acceptance of the tender of good offices looking toward mediation came in a telegram directly to the three South American envoys, who informed Secretary Bryan, the announcement being formally made at the state department.

TAMPICO LEFT BY AMERICANS

Washington, April 30.—Reports to the state and navy departments brought further assurances as to the safety of Americans in Mexico. Admiral Badger reported that nearly all of the Americans had been gotten out of the Tampico district and that 109 refugees had reached Vera Cruz from points in the interior, including the 35 who have been held up at Cordova.

Assurances were transmitted to Consul Canada at Vera Cruz, through the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, that the Mexican minister of foreign affairs had ordered the release of prisoners at Cordova and Guanajuato, and had showed willingness to comply with requests with regard to imprisoned Americans wherever they might be located.

Admiral Badger cabled that he had made an expression of gratitude on behalf of the American government to Vice Admiral Craddock for the courtesy of British Commander Twiss in accompanying the Americans from Cordova to Vera Cruz.

CONFESSES TO TWO MURDERS

Cincinnati, O., April 30.—Confessing to two murders and numerous holdups, a man giving his name as Albert Wing of Baltimore surrendered to the local police here and asked that he be sent back to the Frankfort, Ky., penitentiary to complete a life sentence. Wing claimed that he escaped from the Kentucky prison in 1908. He was then serving a life sentence, he said, for the murder of a woman in Louisville. He also claimed to have served time at Jefferson City, Mo., prison for the murder of a man in St. Louis.

TO SETTLE HOME RULE

Conference Between Rival Leaders To Be Resumed.

London, April 30.—A compromise on the question of home rule for Ireland seems nearer than it has ever been before. There exists a strong belief in parliamentary circles that the conferences between the leaders of the two great parties, which have been unsuccessful in reaching any agreement, will shortly be resumed. The house of commons discussed the Ulster crisis again when it wound up the two days' debate on Austen Chamberlain's motion for a judicial inquiry into the government's plot to crush the Ulster Covenanters. The motion, which was virtually a vote of censure on the cabinet, eventually was rejected by a party vote of 344 to 264.

Sir Edward Carson, whose leadership of the Ulster rebellion makes him the dominating figure on the opposition side of the house, accepted the overtures made by Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, who had invited Sir Edward Carson to attempt to compromise the home rule question on a federal basis.

MORE WARSHIPS ARE OFF BELFAST

Belfast, Ireland, April 30.—The third battle squadron of the British fleet arrived off Bangor, a seaport on Belfast Lough. A flotilla of 11 destroyers also reached Belfast Lough, which they will undertake to patrol to prevent further gun-running.

MANZANILLO BOMBARDED?

Mexico City, April 30.—The port of Manzanillo, on the Pacific coast, was bombed by an American warship, according to a telegram received here by the Mexican minister of war, General Blanquet, from John Jose Maria Mier. According to General Mier's message, the warship entered Manzanillo harbor at 4 in the afternoon of April 28. At 4:30 p. m. the telegraphers left their posts, carrying their instruments with them, and at 5 o'clock the bombardment began. The telegram says the wharves and adjoining buildings were destroyed by shell fire. The gunboat Raleigh is said to have been the warship that shelled the town.

JAPS TEMPT THE RUSSIANS

St. Petersburg, April 30.—It has been learned from an exceptionally well informed source that Baron Motono, Japanese Ambassador at Washington, is doing all in his power to induce the Russian government to take the side of Mexico in the present dispute with the United States and to assume an attitude of hostility toward the latter country. Tempting advantages in the Far East have been proposed to the St. Petersburg cabinet as a bait toward this end, and negotiations have gone so far that it has been represented that if the Russian government would put pressure on Washington such action would not meet with the disapproval of the British government, which, despite its declared friendly relations with the United States would not feel sorry to see the latter country in difficulties. In connection with this report it is significant to note that General Soukhomlinoff left hurriedly today for Vladivostok under special orders from the Czar. He has ostensibly gone to do some survey work there, but the real reason is stated to be to meet several Japanese statesmen and discuss a basis of defensive alliance against the United States.

HERRICK ENTERS RACE FOR SENATOR

Washington, D. C., April 30.—Friends of Myron T. Herrick, former governor of Ohio, and now ambassador to France, are authority for the statement that the next week petitions will be circulated for the purpose of making him a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Senator Burton.

The definite statement that petitions would be circulated was made by Otto Shimanski, one of Mr. Herrick's boomers, who was in Washington. Mr. Herrick had intended to come to the United States on or about May 1, but he has been detained in Paris by his diplomatic duties.

THEN AND NOW

Just one-hundred and twenty-five years ago today was the first presidential inauguration in the United States. The ceremony took place on the balcony of Federal Hall in Wall Street, New York, which city was then the federal capital. Dawn of the inauguration day was greeted with a salvo of artillery and practically all of the 30,000 inhabitants of New York and many visitors from other cities thronged the streets.

The church bells were rung and at noon a troop of horse, two companies of grenadiers and Highlanders in kilts escorted the president-elect in a coach of state to the scene of the ceremonies.

Livingston, chancellor of New York state, administered the oath of office. Washington's fervent response was met with cheers "Long live George Washington, President of the United States," from thousands of throats.

From Federal Hall, Washington went to the neighboring St. Paul's church to attend divine services. Artillery roared and bells rang throughout the afternoon and evening. At dusk bon-fires and fireworks lighted up the streets and gala balls were held, which continued into the following May day.

NOW.

Today on the steps of the United States Sub Treasury building, the exact spot where Washington stood when he took the oath of office, stands his bronze statue, whose legs have been worn shiny by the urchins of Wall street who have tried to climb up to touch the bronze hand of the father of the country.

The point today is called the monetary nerve center of the country. The trees which shaded the narrow thoroughfare in Washington's day have all gone, and all about are buildings whose stony monotony towers several hundred feet above the scene. The land where Washington stood sold at $2.75 a square foot at that time; today it is valued at $600 a square foot, and is one of the most valuable tracts in the world.

The buildings about it are said to represent a real value of $300,000,000 and in their vaults there ordinarily reposes about a sixth of all the money in the United States.

A stone's throw away, St. Paul's church stands with its back to Broadway preserved just as it was when Washington knelt there for his first prayers as President of the United States.

Measurement.

"I had to pay $17 for a ticket to Chicago," said one woman.

"It seems expensive," commented the other.

"Terribly. And there wasn't more than a yard and a quarter of the ticket at that."—Washington Star.

178 MINERS THOT DEAD

Eccles, W. Va., April 30.—Efforts to penetrate mine No. 5 of the New River Collieries company, wrecked with mine No. 6 by an explosion, are progressing slowly.

The chance of rescuing alive any of the 178 miners entombed in mine No. 5 is slim. On account of the intense heat and gases coming from the mine expert miners have abandoned all hopes. Parties of rescuers continue the work of clearing debris from the ruined shaft and expect soon to know the fate of the men.

The shaft guides of mine No. 5, by which the cage is controlled, have been badly damaged and must be repaired before the cage can be lowered to the bottom of the shaft.

Thousands of persons visited the scene of the disaster. The eight bodies of the men who met death in mine No. 6 were prepared for burial, and one, F. J. Lingerman, was shipped to Trinidad, Colo., his former home. The 67 men injured in mine No. 6 are all expected to recover.

BIGGEST GORMAND

The champion gormandizer has been found. It is a bird and a little creature weighing less than half a pound, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. The bird is now the subject of experiments being made by A. R. Cahn, assistant in the zoological laboratory of the university of Wisconsin, and is a small marsh fowl measuring about six inches in height, it is called at the university a "Virginia wren," although such a name is strange to the ears of naturalists.

It is, however, a remarkable glutton. Carefully watched, this bit of a creature ate in one day 144 amphipods, 12 grasshoppers, 12 meal worms, three waterbugs, one water scorpion three inches long, two small sunfish 1 1/2 inches long, one stickle-back two inches long, one caterpillar and 15 flies. The following day, in addition to more of the same food, the bird ate 5 live hornets, one crowfish two inches long and one grass snake eight inches long. In the two days the bird had eaten more than its own weight and was apparently prepared to keep on eating at the same rate indefinitely.

TOLL BILL AMENDED

Coupled with the bill will be reported an amendment proposed by Senator Simmons and approved by the committee, which reads as follows: "Provided, that neither the passage of this act, nor anything therein contained, shall be construed or held as waiving, impairing or affecting any treaty or other right possessed by the United States."

Akron Stomach Victims Are Restored by Mayr's Remedy

A. M. George Gets Rid of Malady After Several Years of Suffering.

A. M. George, who has offices at 304 Walsh Building, Akron, was for many years a sufferer from stomach ailments. He tried a good many treatments and took many medicines. At last he found Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The relief he sought came swiftly. He wrote: "It is wonderful what results I received. I haven't had a symptom of the old trouble that I suffered for several years. Mr. Felver, my neighbor, who sent for some, claims that he is a different man altogether, and his wife, who has been in poor health for several years, thinks it is doing her good."

WHO IS MAKING GOOD RING RECORD

A featherweight fighter who has made the pugilistic critics sit up and take notice is Irving Margolies, the former amateur champion, who has been hewing his way through the ranks of the little scrappers with impressive regularity. Margolies is fast and strong and has scored several knockouts. He is a clerk in a New York business house in Wall street and is likely to duplicate Jim Corbett's exploit of graduating from financial circles into the ring championship class.
